

BUNKER / Standing lamp

www.atelierthierrydreyfus.fr

The defensive architecture of bunkers have always fascinated me ; from their specific shapes I wished to draw a new lamp.

From then on, it went obvious to use a massive shape ; then, to bring into opposition these “primary” lines and a luxury material, as marble and copper. At last, I thought of kids, always on the floor and usually trying to find security and dreams under the tables... Though, I drawn this Element of Light as a hidden sun, only visible from underneath...

All became this floor lamp, solid and stable as an Animal.
